Storm Drain Plans to be Drawn Up

County Supervisors last week approved an agreement with the City of Torrance, whereby the municipality will prepare plans for its three storm drain projects to be financed under the $179,000,000 storm drain bond issue approved by voters last year.

The contract provides that the County Flood Control District will reimburse the City for the maximum amount authorized in the bond issue, a total for all projects of $70,500, according to report from Supervisor Burton W. Chase.

Fishing Improves

Fresh water and deep sea angling have both improved this week as the bad weather eased off, it was reported today by the Outing Club of Southern California.
